5/ What are the costs?

Expenses over time

The person who offers you this product or gives you advice about it may charge you other fees. In such a case, this person will inform you of these fees and show you how they affect your investment.

The tables show the amounts taken from your investment to cover different types of expenses. These amounts depend on how much you invest and how long you hold the units of the Fund. The indicated amounts are indicative and have been calculated based on an exemplary investment amount and various possible holding periods.

Our assumptions are as follows:

/1/ the first year you will get back the invested funds (at 0% annual return); /2/ for the remaining holding periods, we assume that the results of the Fund are as shown in the Moderate scenario; /3/ BGN 10,000 have been invested.

Expenses over time	Eemplary investment of BGN 10,000	If you withdraw your investment after 1 year	If you withdraw your investment after 3 years
	Total costs	BGN 190	BGN 580
	Reduction in Yield	1.9%	1.9% for each year

 Reduction in Yield (RIY) shows how expenses reduce your annual return over the holding period. For example, if you sell the units of FIB Garant Mutual Fund at the end of the recommended holding period /3 years/, the average annual return is expected to be 3.94 % /Moderate Scenario/ before the deduction of expenses and 2.04 % afterwards.

Cost Elements

The table below indicates RIY on an annualized basis

The specified fees and commissions are used to cover the management costs of FIB Garant Mutual Fund, including the costs of marketing and offering the units. 6/ How long should I hold the investment and can I sell it early?

Recommended holding period: three years. The recommended holding period is determined in view of the Fund's investment objectives and policy, as well as the characteristics of the target non-professional investor described above. The units of FIB Garant Mutual Fund can be sold before the recommended period under the conditions and in the order provided in the rules and prospectus of the Fund, and this may affect the return on your investment. For this purpose, a redemption order is submitted at a redemption price based on the Net Asset Value /NAV/ per unit, reduced by the redemption costs, without this leading to the accrual of additional fees, fines, etc.
